HAVÍŘOV

HISTORY OF HAVÍŘOV

The town was founded on the border of Ostrava-Karvina industrial area at the foothills of the Beskydy. The oldest records about the original villages on the land of today's Havířov date back to the end of the 13th century and the first half of the 14th century. The main reason for founding the town was to secure housing for miners and ironworkers during the era of industrial development in the region after WWII.

Havířov officially became a town in 1955 when resolution was adopted by the government of the Czechoslovakian Republic. On 4 December 1955 Havířov gained the rights of the town. In 1990 the town became a statutory town. In 1992 the town centre, which was built in the 1950s in the style of socialistic realism, received a status of cultural heritage and was called Sorela, which is the name of this style. Havířov is the youngest town in the Czech Republic.
